LETTER.

AUDITOR GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Harrisburg, March 13, 1846.

HON. DANIEL L. SHERWOOD,
Speaker of the Senate:

SIR:—The tabular statement on the subject of the State tax on real and personal estate, &c., herewith transmitted, has been prepared in compliance with a resolution adopted by the Senate, on the 4th inst., so far as it has been found practicable to comply therewith. It will be seen that the statement embraces the last five financial years, instead of the last three as designated in the resolution, thereby including all the assessments and receipts of the said tax, and rendering the table, it is presumed, more satisfactory.

With great respect,

We have the honor to be,

Your obedient servants,

JOHN N. PURVIANCE,
Auditor General.

JAMES R. SNOWDEN,
State Treasurer.

P 35047

EXPLANATORY REMARKS.

In the following table the assessments are, in some instances, those resulting from the valuations of the revenue commissioners, (marked thus *)—the auditors of those counties where the mark occurs, either not having reported to the Auditor General, or rendered defective reports From the same cause, some of the assessments and outstanding taxes are estimated, (marked thus †) but are based upon such data as cannot vary the result materially from correctness. The outstanding tax does not embrace the amount in the hands of, and due from, late county treasurers, at the periods specified, nor does it, except in a few instances, include the tax due on unseated lands; the latter, so far as it has been collected, is included in the several assessments. The amount outstanding is subject to further exonerations, commissions, &c.

The assessments as reported by the county auditors have been found to vary in many instances from the amounts regulated by the board of revenue commissioners, some being higher, others lower; taken in the aggregate, however, they are not essentially different. The revenue derived from other sources than that of state tax, comprises receipts from auction commissions and duties, tax on bank dividends, on corporation stocks, on writs, on offices, and on collateral inheritances, enrolment of charters, and licenses. In several instances the tax on corporation stocks received, has been omitted, the location of the company not being sufficiently definite to apply the same to a particular county. The payments to common schools embrace the sums actually paid at the State Treasury, and not the appropriations made for the years designated.

A TABULAR STATEMENT

Showing the assessed valuation of all property, trades, professions, &c., in the several counties of the Commonwealth, made taxable for State purposes, with the amount of tax assessed thereon, and the amount of the same, as also of other revenue, received at the State Treasury from the said counties, together with the amount paid to them at the State Treasury for common schools during each of the financial years named: also, the amount of State tax outstanding (uncollected) in said counties, on the 1st day of March 1846.

NOTE.—The tax assessed in Bedford county, for the year 1844, it will be seen the table, is estimated at $7,400. As the 35th section of the act of 29th April, 18 required one mill to be added to the duplicates of the several collectors for that yea was thought the estimate approximated to the actual amount, inasmuch, too, as amount actually assessed for the preceding year (1843) was $7,480 73. From in mation, however, subsequently received from the commissioners of said county appears that there was an omission on their part to comply with the provisions of act referred to, and the assessment for the year 1844 remained at the rate of one m and amounted to the sum of $2,505$\frac{02}{100}$.

Respectfully submitted.

JAMES R. SNOWDEN,
